WELCOME ADDRESS

Dear Conference Delegates, Guests, Friends,

It is my pleasure to welcome you to the XX International Scientific and Practical Conference «Competitive Russia: Economic and Legal Regulation of Investment Activity in the Digital Age» in memory of Honored Scientist of the Russian Federation, Oleg Vasilyevich Inshakov, held in a beautiful city Volgograd on June 21, 2024.

Russian Federation has a very proud history of inventing new ideas. I am fortunate to co-author/co-edit many books and research papers with Russian authors.

I am very pleased to see the excellent contributions by the Russian researchers in virtually every discipline of the world.

For example, I am very impressed by the research contributions (hundreds of research papers, books, etc.) of Professor Dr Agnessa Inshakova. It demonstrates her vision, intelligence and hard work.

One area I wanted to stress to this intelligent gathering is to investigate the effects of Artificial Intelligence (AI) on Society. As we know:

“AI can also create/present false news, spread misinformation”

We need to be careful with AI and set guidelines for the development of AI for the benefit of humans.

I am extremely sorry that I cannot be with you in person but you are in my thoughts.

1. It is my humbling privilege to serve you and I thank you for this privilege.
2. I am certain that you will find this conference of great interest, informative and useful.

My sincere congratulations to the authors and reviewers for their excellent contributions.
I would like to thank all involved in the organization and be part of this intelligent gathering.

I pray for your health. Take care.
Thank you.

Kind Regards and deep respect,

Professor Lakhmi C. Jain
